

Thousands of Free Worksheets On KidsKnowIt.com

Fill In The Blanks For Geography

1. Lakes contain about 90% of all the surface _____ found on Earth. (not including oceans).
2. In order for lakes to exist, lakes must have a continual source of new _____, otherwise they will eventually dry up.
3. Most lakes contain _____ water. However, in some cases, the water found in a lake can become _____, just like the ocean.
4. Many lakes, are man made. These are referred to as _____, will allow cities and nations to store water for later use.
5. A swamp is similar to a lake but it is much _____.
6. Swamps are covered with water, but this water is shallow enough to allow plants to grown, reaching the _____.
7. Swamps are generally dominated by water _____ trees.
8. Marshes are similar to swamps, but instead of trees, they are dominated by _____ and _____.
9. Marshes are generally rich with live, harboring many kinds of _____, _____, fish, and bird life.
10. Geographers generally refer to all rivers and streams as _____, regardless of how big they are.
11. Streams are important. They drain the landscape, and mover water, and _____ towards the Earth's _____.
12. The largest river on Earth is the _____, which drains much of South America.
13. The largest river in North America is the _____ River, which drains over 40% of that continent.
14. Locked deep within the _____, or surface of the Earth, is found many billions of gallons of water. This is referred to as underground water.