

T or F Geography

Thousands of Free Worksheets On KidsKnowIt.com

- T or F Most of the Earth's water is found outside of the oceans.
- T or F In order to study and understand the oceans, scientists have divided them into four distinct oceans.
- T or F The four oceans are the Pacific Ocean, the Atlantic Ocean, the Indian Ocean, and the Alaska Ocean.
- T or F All of the oceans are connected.
- T or F There are a number of seas, bays, and gulfs, which are smaller portions of one of the larger oceans,
- T or F The smallest of the Earth's oceans has been given the name of the Pacific Ocean.
- T or F The Pacific Ocean covers twice as much space as any other ocean, and more space than all the continents put together.
- T or F The Pacific Ocean extends upward touching the Arctic ocean, and also extends down to the shores of Antarctica.
- T or F None of the Pacific Ocean lies along the warm tropics.
- T or F The majority of the Pacific Ocean is warm water.
- T or F The Pacific Ocean has the deepest average depth, and is also home to the deepest trenches on Earth.
- T or F The Pacific Ocean does not have small volcanic islands.
- T or F The Pacific Ocean is not known for bad weather.
- T or F Some of the most powerful storms are brewed with its waters.